Who Should Attend?

This program is appropriate for any individual who uses a firearm, works or regularly is present at a firearm range, or is a regular participant or observer of any activity involving a firearm. Firearms use, whether training, hunting, target shooting, backyard

“plinking,” or even during cleaning and maintenance, presents potential for an injury. These injuries can be minor cuts and scrapes or in the worst case scenario a gunshot wound.

Topics To Be Covered

- Personal aid kits & must have items
- Pertinent anatomy & physiology overview
- Traumatic wound management
- Non-trauma medical issues
- Considerations for a med bag
- Hands on skills practical session

Additional Information

We will be having a working lunch. Bring a bagged lunch, or we will allow you to briefly leave to pick up lunch, if required. There is a restaurant at the site. Water, soda, and coffee will be provided by Firearms Training of WNY and VRI Tactical

Items for assembling your own kit will be available on site through VRI Tactical.

This is an informational seminar only. It is not designed to train, certify or qualify you to do anything.
